A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on January 29, 2008 has been entered.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 12, 15, 16, 22, 26 and 30-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bright (U.S. Patent No. 4,474,768) in combination with Singer et al (WO 00/32203)

Bright discloses a citrate salt of an azithromycin compound (column 2, lines 1-27) but does not disclose crystallization of said compound. However note that Singer et al disclose crystallization of an azithromycin compound using ethanol as a solvent at a temperature of about 30 C and cooling to a temperature of about 20 C (page 4) in order to prepare less hygroscopic and therefore more stable compounds. Therefore, it would have been prima facie obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention to crystallize citrate salt disclosed by Bright using the process disclosed by Singer et al in order to obtain a more stable crystalline form of azithromycin citrate.

Applicant's arguments filed January 29, 2008 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
